Serving the Pocono Mountains Area

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive.

There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation.

(4) For the sake of the Church itself, which ngeds his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Germany. The campaign battle between Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and West Berlin's Mayor Willy Brandt has achieved prominence chiefly because of what is really an extraneous issue in the election, the clash between the Soviet Union and the West over Berlin.

Whichever way the voting goes, Western diplomats expect no change in the existing relationship between free Germany and the West. Basically the issue between the two candidates involves the question whether Adenauer's domestic policies should be continued or altered.

"Der Alte," as the chancellor's ad-

Tomorrow is election day in West any "experiments" in government. This is merely his way of opposing the social reforms urged by Brandt.

> German political experts give Brandt little chance to unseat Adenauer. The latter's re-election would be favorably received in Washington because of the way he has made West Germany a firm but not obstreperous bulwark of the Western alliance. Still, whichever one wins, no important change in Bonn's attitude toward the West is anticipated.

The West's chief concern about the campaign is that it be completed without any untoward incident which might embarrass the Allies in the Berlin dispute. As it nears its end the hope grows that nothing will occur to rock mirers call him, has spoken out against the international boat.

The Wyckoff Shopper

This is the weekend of our Fall Millinery Opening, and all day yesterday women in quest of beauty shopped Maudie Walton's department, having a marvelous time trying this, trying that, and finally buying. All would "The Rock That Moved," a have agreed, I think, that selecting a hat is not easy ... particularly when there are so many, all so becoming and appealing, from which to choose.

Millinery Institute has adopted as its slogan of of Circle 1 of the East Strouds- this year, "Wonderful things are happening to women ried a white Bible with a cas- burg Methodist Women's Society who wear hats." This is, in my opinion, a most sincere statement. This face of mine has never pleased me, but under some of the brims on the new hats it does . . . and while I've always considered myself rather colorless, certain shades of blue, rose and green do for me as much as the proper stage lighting does for an actress. Let's face it-without color, without design, without that certain flare a well-chosen hat can give, very few women rate a second glance. It's sad, but it's true. After our Fashion Show at Mount Pocono the other new members of the faculty at their opening meeting on Monday night at S in the high school day not Marshalis Creek, 4 p.m.

Mrs. Fellencer teaches in the Christian Day School in Intercession other hat seems, in some way, to lose something, despite the fact that it is elegantly styled of 100% wool with those custom details so familiar under the Jonathan > Logan label. CLAIRE SPECHT: House of Shrovers had created Claire's half size dress of Arnel Jersey, combining several of this year's richest colors: ruby red, deep maroon, and shades of gray. For this, Maudie had chosen a grey velour cloche with rhinestone and veil trim, priced at 13.98. The hat was only 4.00 cheaper than the dress, incidentally, but it was worth every penny, adding a look of luxury one couldn't possibly find in a less expensive hat or one, perhaps, of another color.

> ANN WRIGHT: I remember Ann particularly well in a transitional Berkshire B-Tween of an abstract print on viscose and wool. Predominant colors were green and blue. Ann is rather short, and Maudie had very wisely selected a green hat for her, green being the background color of the dress. When one saw the green hat above the green dress in some miraculous way height was added. The dress was 10.98, the hat 10.00.

SHIRLEY LANSDOWNE: It is difficult to remember Shirley in only one ensemble, for here my mind persists in drawing a tie. Which impressed me more. I wonder, Shirley in a coat of very light beige Grandura (that miraculous fur fabric) with wedding band collar of mink and matching satin and beaver turban . . . or Shirley in a double knit cotton sheath by Fairfrox with a high crowned toque of Dior pink, jewel trimmed, at 19.98? The coat was magnificent . . . but that brilliant pink above black was breathtaking!

MARILYN BESECKER: Marilyn wore another striking version of black with color. Her dress was also by Jonathan Logan in charcoal wool styled with simple, uncluttered elegance. The only trim was two fringed pockets with large buttons, set upright at the waistline. Her towering cloche was a brilliant Space Blue beaver banded with green ribbon, and she carried a wool handbag by Ingber in the same green. (Accessories from shoes to handbags, jewelry and gloves can do exciting things to a costume!)

LILLIAN ZEPEL, on the other hand, showed what can be done to accentuate a colored ensemble with black. One of her ensembles consisted of Rosecrest coordinates in a brilliant magenta, accessorized with beads of jet, stitched calf pumps by Mademoiselle, also black, and a Lucilla Mendez hat of black velvet.

SUE ELLEN LEE also wore magenta and black the magenta being a sheath dress of 75% wool, 25% nylon by Joan Miller, untrimmed except for a half inch piping of self-fabric, with two tiny tailored bows, at the waistline. She wore a Lucilla Mendez cloche too, the dull black of the velvet contrasted by the shiny black of satin trim.

"PROJECT HOPE"-The privately-supported American hospital ship Hope (shown here leaving San Francisco Bay) will be the subject of a special half-hour report, "Project Hope," Wednesday, Sept. 20 (8:30-9 p.m.) on the CBS Telvision Network. The ship and its staff of dedicated American medical personnel visited Indonesia and Viet Nam during the past year. The staff taught modern medical practices and rendered medical aid to the people of those distant lands. The ship returns to the United States in September before making another philanthropic voyage abroad

Navy Cites Matamoras Sailor

A MATAMORAS Navyman was awarded the Navy commendation medal for saving the life of a woman whose car plunged into waters of a Chicago harbor. The man, Engineman Third Class Ronald A. Moon, 23, saved the woman last Aug. 14 when the accident happened.

Moon received the award for rescuing Mrs. Ethel Selinko, 37, of Chicago, who could not swim. Moon, who was serving aboard the submarine Stablefish, dived into the water and pulled her through the car window.

CATCH THE CURE

An old cookbook gives this cure for asthma, "Wear the skin of a muskrat—fur side next to the bodyover the lungs." Certain relief was assured. It's comforting to know that we have more reliable methods today. In recent years medical science has achieved incalculable improvements in the care and treatment of illness. Your physician can tell you about the effective medications available. Seek his professional advice when you're ill. Then, if he recommends medication, come to us for quality prescriptions.

According to the latest vital statistics women live five years longer than men. Your wife will probably outlive you. You certainly want to provide for her.

The foundation of such provision is a well drawn will. If your will is not in order you had better see your attorney and have it brought up to date.

Ask him to name the Monroe Security Bank & Trust Company as executor and/or trustee. You will relieve your wife of what to many women is virtually an impossible task, for the settling of even the smallest estate requires experience and knowledge far beyond that of the average person.
